

Lit. B
Note on the number of families, men, and women, settled in the Mennonite colonies of the Novorossiyskaya guberniya, their household economy, pastoral farming, and housing.
Mennonites, who have arrived in 1789, 1793, 1794, 1795, and 1796 to Russia from Western Prussia in the number of 346 families, have founded the following eight villages:		Number of families, men, and women			Pastoral Farming			Agricultural tools			Housing families	men	women	horses	cattle	sheep	German wagons	German ploughs	harrows	well completed houses with outbuildings, made with:		incomplete and without outbuildings, made with:		very unstable houses, made with:		no housing at all
											logs	fachwerk	logs	fachwerk	logs	fachwerk
Novorossiyskiy uyezd	Chortitza	52	142	135	214	801	302	51	19	19	12	7	8	9	2	6	8
	Rosenthal	45	110	109	206	555	209	46	16	14	--	--	21	12	3	7	2
	Insel Chortitza	12	29	28	84	401	286	12	9	12	3	5	1	1	--	2	--
	Neuendorf	60	168	155	273	645	67	59	26	28	3	3	14	39	--	--	1
	Neuenburg	23	57	54	115	245	23	25	13	14	--	--	19	--	--	4	--
	Einlage	48	99	101	171	463	12	42	18	20	7	4	9	6	9	9	4
	Schoenhorst	40	110	103	165	454	76	38	13	23	5	5	9	13	--	4	4
	Kronsweide	34	77	58	105	423	188	33	17	19	2	2	17	3	4	2	4
Pavlogradskiy uyezd	Schoenwiese	17	50	33	49	190	159	15	7	10	--	--	12	5	--	--	--
Novomoskovskiy uyezd	Kronsgarten	15	27	36	68	184	9	20	8	8	--	--	--	--	--	--	15
Total:		346	869	812	1450	4361	1327	341	146	167	32	26	110	88	18	34	38

Note: there are five families yet to settle: 10 men and 15 women, 25 people total.

Court Councillor Samuil Kontenius